

Cookie Policy

Cookies

This Website uses cookies, small text files placed by the site on the computer or mobile device, which automatically collect some information that the user does not provide directly. Cookies are used in order to make the website work more efficiently and simply. Further information on the use of cookies can be found below and in the Privacy Policy published on this site.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that the websites visited by the user save on his device, where they are stored and then transmitted to the same sites on the occasion of the next visit by the same user.

During browsing, the user can also receive cookies on his terminal that are sent from different websites or web servers (later defined as "Third Parties"), on which some elements on the site may reside.

Cookies are not harmful for the devices on which they are saved.

This site uses only technical and system cookies described below.

Technical cookies

Navigation cookies: These cookies are essential to allow navigation on the site and use its features. Without cookies, some features may not be accessible or may not function properly. Cookies are also related to the activities of saving preferences (eg. setting of navigation language, etc.) and verifying the display of the "cookie policy" or less by the visitor;

Analysis cookies: These cookies are used for analytical and statistical purposes, such as counting the unique number of visitors to the site; cookies are used by third parties (eg. Google Analytics).

Third-party cookies

Third Party cookies can be installed either directly by subjects with whom we have concluded agreements, or by third parties with whom we have only indirect relationships through intermediaries.

Below are the links to information on cookies available on Third Party sites and sending cookies through our site:

How to disable cookies

Cookie Policy

You can refuse consent to the use of cookies by selecting the setting on your browser. To do so follow the instructions from the links below for different browsers:

- Google Chrome: Select the Chrome menu icon> Select Settings> At the bottom of the page, select Show advanced settings> In the "Privacy" section, select Content settings> Select Allow data to be saved locally> Select End.

For more information see <https://support.google.com/accounts/answer/61416?hl=en>.

- Safari: To set Safari's blocking of cookies in iOS 8, tap Settings> Safari> Block cookies and choose "Always allow", "Allow only from websites I visit", "Allow only from current website" or "Always lock ". In iOS 7 or older, choose "Never", "Third party and advertisers" or "Always".

For more information see <https://support.apple.com/en-gb/HT201265>.

- Firefox: Click on the menu button and select options> Select the Privacy panel> Under History settings: select use custom settings> To enable cookies, select Accept cookies from sites; to turn them off, remove the mark from the item.

See <https://support.mozilla.org/en-US/kb/enable-and-disable-cookies-website-preferences>.

- Internet Explorer: Click the Tools button and then click Internet Options> Click the Privacy tab and in Settings move the slider up to block all cookies or down to allow them all and then click OK.

See <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/help/17442/windows-internet-explorer-delete-manage-cookies>.

- Opera: Preferences> Advanced> Cookies: These settings allow you to configure cookie management in Opera. The default is to accept all cookies. Select a setting from the following. The setting Accept cookies: All cookies are accepted; The setting Accept cookies only from the site you visit: The third-party cookies, sent from a domain other than the one you are visiting, are rejected; The setting Never accept cookies: All cookies are rejected.

See <http://help.opera.com/Windows/10.00/en/cookies.html>.

We remind the user that returning to the home page and starting browsing, is still indicating his willingness to accept cookies. In fact, without a precise choice of the user, the site settings are made in order to send cookies by default. Finally, remember that the non-acceptance, deletion or deactivation of third-party cookies may not allow you to use all the features of the site. Unfortunately, we are not able to individually identify the consequences for not accepting each individual cookie, as we are not able to hypothesize the consequences resulting from all the possible combinations of cookies accepted or not accepted.

UPDATE OF THE PRESENT COOKIE POLICY
